

Private Company Loss Scenarios from Chubb

Manager Pads Bills

COVERAGE SECTION	Crime
Cause of action	Employee Theft
Type of organization	Architectural Design Firm
Number of employees	More than 75
Annual revenue	More than $8 million

DESCRIPTION OF EVENT

A trusted high-ranking member of an architectural design firm's management team was charged with harassment by a number of subordinate employees and was suspended. In the ensuing investigation, it was also discovered that, over a three-year period, the manager had been obtaining reimbursement from the firm for personal expenses, such as expensive restaurant tabs and air tickets for female companions who accompanied him on various trips. The employee submitted documentation for the expenses but lied on his expense forms about the business purpose.

RESOLUTION

The manager's schemes resulted in losses to the firm of more than $100,000.
